Foreword

This Manual was created by order of the General Executive Board of the IWW to help codify organizational procedures and methods.

The goal of this Manual is to effect continuity from Administration to Administration. It is also to provide organization in the methods and procedures of day to day business, improve the current system, increase efficiency, and reduce the need for continual Constitutional revision.

This Manual will also afford new officers and members of the union with clear guidelines for their conduct in key areas, and set forward clear standards as to what is expected of them while serving the union. Ideally this manual will provide that our decision making can become policy based, rather than arbitrary, and each administration could build upon our unions rich past rather than scramble about for a means of meeting the future.

This Manual is to be considered an official statement of the policy of the union.

The contents of each section of this manual have been approved by vote of the General Executive Board. Future additions or changes may be made by vote of the General Executive Board, the General Convention, or by Referendum vote by the membership.

No item within the Manual of Policies and Procedures shall be in conflict with or supersede the Constitution of the IWW. Any disagreement regarding the adjudication of such a conflict may be submitted to the General Convention or for Referendum vote by the membership.

The contents of the manual shall include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following:

- The Working Rules of the General Executive Board
- Rules for the Email List and On-line Meeting of the General Executive Board
- Establishment of Branch Contacts for the General Executive Board
- Establishment and Procedures for Committees
- Practices and Procedures for the General Convention
- Job Duties and Requirements of the General Secretary Treasurer
- Job Duties and Requirements for Delegates of the Union
- Policies and Procedures for Regional Organizing Committees
- Policies Regarding the Administration of IWW.ORG
- Policies Regarding Official Literature and Publications of the Union

The General Secretary Treasurer of the IWW shall prepare a printed copy of this Manual to be distributed to all officers of the General Administration by January 30th of each year. The GST will also be responsible to make sure that any additions or revisions to this manual are properly prepared and distributed as directed by the General Executive Board.

The GST will also make sure that copies of this Manual are available to any member of the union in good standing, or sub-body of the union for a nominal fee that will cover the cost of production and shipping. Copies of the MPP shall also be made available via email request from General Headquarters, and shall be posted in the public section on the official IWW website, as per resolution of the 2009 IWW General Convention.

General Secretary-Treasurer Job Description

This section of the Manual on Policies and Procedures concerning the job description of the General Secretary-Treasurer of the Industrial Workers of the World is not to be considered a contract, and may be changed any time during the course of employment where it does not conflict with the IWW Constitution.

This section of the MPP is designed to acquaint the GST with information of the working conditions, benefits, and some of the policies affecting the office of GST and and maintenance of General Headquarters.

Qualifications:

The General-Secretary Treasurer shall be a member for 3 years and 18 months in continuous good standing immediately prior to nomination and shall remain in continuous good standing until assuming that office or forfeit the right to hold the office.

Employment Status:

The General Secretary-Treasurer is elected by members of the Industrial Workers of the World, which is composed of actual wage earners. The term of the GST begins on January 1 the following year after the election. The IWW recognizes the right of the GST to resign at any time for any reason. However, the employment of the GST shall not be terminated without the proper procedures being followed as outlined in the Constitution. This means that the IWW's relationship with the GST is not a guarantee of employment.

No candidates for the position of GST, who meet the Constitutional requirements for office, shall be discriminated against from running for, or holding office on the basis of the candidates' religion, political affiliation, age, sex, sexual orientation, disability or race. Likewise, those factors will have nothing to do with pay or benefits.

Attendance:

The General Secretary-Treasurer is expected to be at the General Headquarters office from the hours of 9 AM to 5 PM, with 1 hour for lunch taken at the GST's leisure, no fewer than 5 days a week, or 40 hours a week, whichever better suits the GST. Excessive absences, including for Sick Leave, may result in disciplinary action.

Time spent travelling during normal work hours is considered work time. Time spent in home-to-work travel by the GST is not considered "hours worked" and, therefore, is not considered work time.

Pay and Performance Issues:

The General Secretary-Treasurer carries out the duties and responsibilities of the office with limited supervision. The GST makes decisions and establishes work priorities on essentially task-oriented operations.

The General Executive Board sets the monthly salary of the GST. There are 12 pay periods in a year and the monthly salary may be changed any time during the GST's employment by a majority vote of the General Executive Board, not to take effect until the following month. The GST shall not pay himself or herself without first getting written approval from the GEB Chairperson.

The GEB Chairperson, or any member of the GEB, retains the right to request any documentation regarding the operating expenses or income handled by the GST at any time. Such documentation may include, but is not limited to: payroll expenses, receipts, bank and credit card statements, utility statements, and deposit records. The GEB Chairperson shall raise the issue to the entire GEB of any illegitimate payments made by the GST.

The GEB shall evaluate the work performance of the GST and those hired by the GST through the annual audit of headquarters' books and supplies. The GEB may also follow-up on the concerns of any branch officer as to the performance of the GST and those hired by him or her. Written evaluations can be made at anytime to advise workers of unsatisfactory job performance. A majority vote of the GEB is required to fire any employee hired by the GST.

The GST has the responsibility to hire, fire and oversee staff as necessary to meet the union's needs and fulfill the duties of the office. The GEB determines the maximum number of hours staff hired by the GST may work. The hourly pay rate for staff hired by the GST is set by the GEB.

The GST will maintain a record of hours worked for all on-call, full- and part-time employees. The GST shall issue paychecks on a monthly basis to all on-call, full- and part-time staff. Paychecks are subject to the deductions required by law.

Benefits

The General Executive Board and the General Secretary-Treasurer shall negotiate the allocation of funds to be used to provide the GST and their family with health insurance. This monthly amount will not be changed by the GEB during the course of the GST's employment.

The GST is entitled to all rights of unpaid time off from work that falls under the labor law of the country where the GST and GHQ reside. In the US these include but are not limited to: FMLA and military leave of absence. Leave of work includes, but is not limited to: Jury duty, 2 hours time off to vote, witness leave and up to 3 days of paid bereavement.

Holidays and days off include New Year's Day, May Day, June 27, and Christmas Day, plus 2 floating holidays taken at the discretion of the GST. The GST is also entitled to 10 vacation days, taken at his or her leisure provided he or she give at least 5 days written notice to the GEB and provided that the days off do not conflict with the General Convention. The GST is also entitled to 5 sick days. If a recognized holiday falls during the GST's leave of absence (vacation days or sick leave) or during the General Convention, the GST may take an additional day off. Sick days and vacation days will be prorated to GHQ staff based on hours worked per month, and this prorated amount of sick time and paid time off will be calculated by the General Secretary Treasurer.

A GST who serves their full term from January 1 to December 31 will have his or her final pay check include payment for any unused vacation days, not including unused floating holidays, at $50 per vacation day remaining. If the GST's term ends before December 31, their final pay check will not include payment for any unused vacation days.

For questions about his or her benefits, the GST should contact the GEB Chair.

Standards of Conduct

While serving in office, the GST is not to make public statements supporting any political or religious organization in the capacity of the office of GST. The GST and employees of GHQ also shall not engage in any sexual harassment, racial or sexual discrimination, or use or sale of alcohol or illegal drugs in the workplace. Engagement in this behavior is grounds for the GEB to suspend the pay of the GST or GHQ employee for 1 month and are also grounds for filing charges to remove the GST from office and to fire an hourly employee of GHQ.

Grievance Procedure

If the GST, or employees of GHQ, have questions concerning policies and procedures affecting or likely to affect his or her work, there are resources available for clarification. The GST and GHQ employees are encouraged to seek answers to their work-related questions and concerns by first contacting the GEB Chair. If no resolution is satisfactory, the GST or employee can file a grievance with the GEB, and can request a closed session to deal with personal issues.

No employee will be penalized, formally or informally, for voicing a complaint.

The GST, and any paid employee of GHQ, may file charges against the GEB if the GEB violates the Constitutional rights of the office of the GST, or violates any agreements listed in this section of the MPP.

While the General Administration accesses this information to verify membership standing of individuals and to conduct basic administrative work of the union, lists of this information are not to be shared with committees, individual members, or any other body of the IWW for reasons such as mass fund raising appeals. 3. This information can be shared with individual members for union business that is not part of mass fundraising appeals at the discretion of the GST. 4. Officers of union bodies such as General Membership Branches, Regional Administrations, and Regional Organizing Committees should have unrestricted access to their own bodies membership information as they see fit, including fundraising appeals

General Headquarters Safer Space Policy

The I.W.W. is a union committed to the emancipation of the working class. The working class is diverse and as a union we realize that oppression is many layered. As such, we strive to keep our common places free from oppressive action, behavior, and language.

These oppressive actions and words include, but are not limited to: racism, sexism, homophobia, and any expression of disrespect and/or intolerance of size, gender identity, physical ability, age, educational level, cultural background, or political ideology (as long as such ideology does not conflict with the I.W.W. Constitution).

We want to learn from and educate each other. We will each be responsible for addressing these issues in ourselves and others. This policy is not about censorship, but rather opening a dialog in a respectful way. If someone feels like this Safer Space Policy is not respected, and that oppressive actions have been taken or words been used, and is uncomfortable bringing this up personally, they are encouraged to seek an ally of their choosing to advocate for them.

In a meeting, a person can ask for a point of personal privilege to take a break and discuss this with necessary parties.

All General Headquarters staff, volunteers, interns, and visitors should be conscious of this policy and address issues as they arise.

This policy is to be posted visibly at the I.W.W. General Headquarters and made available to all users of the space. In addition to the premises of I.W.W. General Headquarters, this policy applies to any meeting, event, or communication platform that is I.W.W. General Headquarters sponsored.

A Primer on the Rules of Decision Making

A) Chair: The person that is elected to maintain the order of business at the meeting.

B) Agenda: The order of business, or list of things to be discussed.

C) Main Motion: The proposed action or policy.

D) Second: To support opening a motion to discussion; without a second, the original motion is deferred, or dropped.

E) Discussion: All motions are up for questions and debate before a vote.

F) Motion to Amend: During discussion, someone may move to amend the main motion. The proposed amendment is then discussed and voted on before returning to the main motion. However, if the amendment is offered as friendly, the amendment does not need to be voted on if it is accepted by the maker of the main motion.

G) Suspending the Order of the Day: A vote can be taken at any time to suspend the order of business

(i.e. the agenda) for free discussion and brainstorm.

H) Calling the Question: Ends the debate; floor may vote on whether or not to call the question, or the chair may rule to put the question to vote.

I) Appealing the ruling of the Chair: All decisions in regards to proceeding made by the chair are subject to override by majority. This rarely happens, but is necessary on occasion.

J) Point of Order: Is always in order, used by anyone to point out that debate has wandered off of the subject at hand

K) "Out of Order": Someone may be declared "out of order" when they are speaking out of turn, not speaking to the subject or question at hand, or they are being disruptive.

L) Good and Welfare: This is the time when announcements and other items that do not fit into the agenda can be brought up.

M) Voting may be done with a show of hands or a voice vote.

Procedure Etiquette and Protocol

A) Respect each others opinions, and the process.

B) Raise hand to get on speaking list (chair or co-chair maintains list).

C) All should have a chance to speak before anyone speaks twice on a motion.

D) Allow for ample debate before calling the question. Allow for the group to determine a general agreement on a question before asking for a vote (sometimes general agreement is not possible).

E) Help the chair do his/her job by helping to move the agenda along.

Standards for Committees of the IWW

Each committee of the IWW is chartered to fill a particular need, and members of these committees should take their obligations to the union seriously.

The following guidelines and processes are required of every appointed committee of the IWW, unless superseded by Constitutional provisions, in the case of Mandated Committees.

General Rules Governing Committees:

- 1) All regular committees of the IWW shall be chartered by action of the General Convention or General Executive Board, or by referendum initiative and vote of the Membership. Each committee is considered to be representing the interests of the union and is granted the necessary rights and privileges as such.
- 2) No committee should be chartered without a formal motion outlining the plans and goals of that committee, and stating whether the committee shall be a Standing Committee of the union, or shall work within a prescribed time line.
- 3) No committee should be chartered without the naming of a formal Chair who is responsible for seeing that said committee carries out its charter and that an informal quarterly report is filed with the GEB and the membership outlining said committee activities. In the case of Standing Committees the facilitator or chair should be confirmed at each General Convention, except in cases where the means for appointing or electing the Chair of said committee is clearly outlined in the Constitution.
- 4) Committee membership can be opened to the union as a whole or be specified in the motion creating the committee; but it is a responsibility of the Chair of the committee to keep a current Directory of all members of the committee, and supply the GEB and General Convention with said directory.
- 5) Each committee should have a liaison on the GEB to better facilitate communications between the General Administration and the committee.
- 6) Each committee should establish an e-mail list and consider said list as an ongoing meeting of said committee; the Chair of the committee to act as moderator of said list.
- 7) Each standing committee should submit basic guidelines for inclusion in the Manual of Policies and Procedures of the Union.
- 8) Each standing committee is also responsible for preparing a formal report to be submitted each year to the membership at the General Convention.
- 9) Each committee shall expedite their business promptly and responsibly. Should a committee fail to carry out its obligations or fail to report, the GEB may nominate members to replace current inactive members, or to suspend or revoke the charter of said committee.
- 10) All Committees have the right to place items for discussion on the Agenda of the General Convention, and to propose formal resolutions to the Convention as a constituted body of the union.
- 11) No committee may enact any binding rules, regulations, or standards, or in any way set policy for the union without a direct motion from the General Executive Board, a motion of the General Convention, or approval of the membership through referendum.
12. No member of the union should serve as Chair of more than one regular committee.

13. Delegates may not use proxy votes while conducting business in committee.

Types of Committees of the IWW

Mandated Committees are those committees established by the Constitution or By-Laws of the Industrial Workers of the World to perform specific business for the Union.

These committees may be special committees with a limited time frame to complete their work, or standing committees, but all have only the power granted them by the Constitution or By-Laws of the Union.

The membership, structure and tasks of these Committees are to be described in the Constitution and/or By-Laws of the IWW individually. Where no process is outlined in the Constitution and/or General Bylaws, these Committees should govern themselves according to processes and procedures established here in the MPP.

Standing Committees are elected/appointed by the General Executive Board or the General Convention to continue/perform the business of the Union.

These committees have only the power granted them by the Board or General Convention, and are required to submit a formal report of their activities at each Convention, as well as report at least quarterly to the GEB and the membership.

The charter of each standing committee should be confirmed or disbanded at each General Convention. If confirmed, a Chair must be named and new members should be appointed.

No Standing Committee may be activated unless the motion creating said committee clearly states the expectations for that committee, to whom and when that committee shall be responsible for reporting, who shall Chair that committee and how new Chairs will be appointed, and who is considered a member of that committee and how new members may join or be appointed.

Any Standing Committee that does not report to the General Convention, or does not have any activity between Conventions should be considered as "non-operational" and the reasons and needs for said committee should be an Agenda item to be debated by the Convention; after which it should be formally disbanded, or a new committee should be confirmed.

Special Committees are elected/appointed by the General Executive Board or General Convention, generally for a specific task or are created to do advance preparation on key issues for the Convention.

Because of the nature of their tasks, they are given a specific time frame in which to complete their assignments. This period may be limited within the term of a single administration, or may be carried on for a period of years, over the course of several administrations.

Special Committees may be turned into Standing Committees to continue their work by a vote of the General Convention. In this case, new members should be appointed from amongst the delegates attending the Convention.

Caucuses are informal committees and may be created by any body of members within the union regarding any issues or special considerations that they feel need to be addressed.

Caucuses are informal groupings, and do not owe a formal report to General Convention. However, an opportunity should be made at every General Convention for caucuses to meet, and caucuses should be given an opportunity to report their actions and make recommendations to the Convention based upon their deliberations and activities.

However, caucuses are not official committees or bodies of the union. They have no requirements or restrictions placed upon them, aside from the general requirements and restrictions placed upon every member of the union by the Constitution. Nor do they have any special powers or authority conferred upon them.

Working Rules of the Gender Equity Committee

1. Membership

The Gender Equity Committee (GEC) is composed of a five member board, elected by the annual referendum and election. Board members will serve one year terms.

The committee shall elect a chair from its membership. Chairs are empowered to propose, discuss, and vote on motions.

2. Procedure for motions:

A) Making Motions: The chair and four elected members of the GEC are empowered to make motions. All motions must be made via an email sent to the GEC listserv. All emails regarding motions should include in the subject heading of the email the word 'Motion', the acronym for the committee, the mover's initials, the number of the motion, and a descriptive title for the motion (i.e. Motion GEC-JK-01 Amend Gender Equity Committee Working Rules).

B) Amending Motions: Once a motion is made, it cannot be amended. If a majority of GEC members wish to see substantive changes made to a motion after it has been moved, they must first vote down the current motion and then resubmit a new motion containing the desired changes.

C) Proposed Motions: Movers of motions may and are encouraged to first put forth proposed motions, which are rough drafts of motions, open to revision and must use the subject heading 'Proposed Motion' along with a descriptive title (i.e. Proposed Motion - Gender Equity Committee Working Rules for 2012-2013).

D) Amending Proposed Motions: Amendments to proposed motions must be accepted as friendly by the mover of the motion in order to be incorporated into the motion.

E) Voting Members: Voting on motions shall be limited to the chair and four elected members of the GEC.

F) Voting on Motions: Voting members of the GEC cast their votes via email to the GEC listserv. The results of voting are tallied by the GEC Chair. A motion is considered "live" for no more than 30 days after it has been made, after which, if the motion has not gathered enough votes to pass, it is "expired."

3. Transparency, Reporting, and Confidentiality:

A) The chair of the GEC shall compile a quarterly report to be submitted to the GEB and to the general membership of the IWW via the GOB. The report shall contain a summary of all motions made and the results of the voting on those motions, plus any other information deemed relevant by the voting members of the GEC. Prior to submitting the report, the chair shall submit the report to the committee listserv for comments by supporting members of the GEC and comments and approval by the voting members of the GEC.

B) Names of individuals, branches, and details of events shared off-list by members who contact the GEC for support will not be disclosed to anyone other than the officers of the GEC unless the members involved have given written consent for information to be shared more widely - specifying what can be shared, where it can be shared, and with whom.

4. Sato Fund Dispersal

A) Background: The Sato Fund was established to memorialize FW Charlene "Charlie" Sato, an IWW member and activist who died in 1996 after a long battle with cancer. As a professor of pidgin and creole language studies at the University of Hawai'i, Charlie often was at the forefront of promoting the rights of aboriginal peoples to use their language in educational and public settings.

After her death, the IWW established the Sato Fund, which was originally intended to "help women with travel costs in order to attend the General Assembly". The union is proud to continue with this tradition of promoting gender diversity throughout our major decision making and strategy building gatherings.

B) Finances and Fundraising: The Sato Fund is maintained as a liability account by the IWW General Administration (GA), and is managed by the acting General Secretary-Treasurer (GST). The balance of the Sato Fund is reflected in monthly balance sheets provided by the GST, which are published in the union's General Organization Bulletin.

IWW members and branches may engage in efforts to increase access to reimbursements available through the Sato Fund. This may include, but is not limited to; sale of assessment stamps, personal or organizational donations, web based fundraising, etc. All funds collected for the Sato Fund must be remitted to IWW General Headquarters. Checks should be issued to "IWW General Fund", with "Sato Fund" in the memo line.

C) Interpretation of Qualifying Candidates: The purpose of the Sato Fund is to promote gender diversity at IWW sanctioned meetings, trainings, conventions, and organizing summits. This is accomplished by materially aiding fellow workers with their travel costs (including air/train/bus fare, as well as fuel costs) incurred in order to participate in these events.

The IWW recognizes that designations of sex and gender identity are not always mutually compatible. By this, we mean that a fellow worker may have been assigned a sex at birth (usually by a doctor or by their parents) such as "male" or "female," but they may later come into realization that their personal identification of sex or gender differs from their assigned sex. As a result, a fellow worker may choose to transition in a way that helps them actualize their true identity. They might do this by transforming their dress, behavior, lifestyle, or body.

Some people might identify with a gender norm different from the one associated with their assigned sex (transgender), and the identity of others might fail to conform with any gender norms (gender non-conforming). All of these people face personal exclusion and safety risks in public, at school, at workplaces, in the family, and in positions of power. Active and passive occurrences of discrimination of these populations are referred to as transphobia.

Similarly, for fellow workers who were assigned the sex of "female" at birth and who continue to self-identify as women, called cis-gender women, the union notes the continued presence of inequality which permeates all aspects of our class. The domination by cis-gender men (male-assigned people who identify as men) of societal institutions, including government, workplace, and family, is referred to as sexism.

The IWW views sexism and transphobia as prohibitors of working class unity, and as such, must make efforts to eradicate them within our organization if we are to effectively confront the power of the capitalist class. The Sato Fund helps to accomplish this by providing cisgender women, transgender women and men, and gender non-conforming fellow workers with travel funding in order to increase their representation and participation throughout the union.

D) Dispersal of the Sato Fund: Dispersals from the Sato Fund are controlled and decided upon by the IWW Gender Equity Committee. It is strongly recommended, however not necessary, that IWW members seeking travel assistance through the Sato Fund should first secure the nomination/endorsement of an officially sanctioned IWW entity, such as a branch, organizing committee, or other committee enacted through the IWW Constitution or General Convention.

All requests for Sato Fund dispersals must be made at least 30 days prior to the event that the applicant wishes to attend. Requests should be in writing, and submitted to the Gender Equity Committee Chair. It is noted that financial contributions to the Sato Fund are made on a voluntary basis by the membership and IWW supporters at large, and not through mandatory assessments levied through regular membership dues payments. In this way, dispersals from the Sato Fund are seen as being applicable to members seeking travel assistance in order to attend the General Convention, and that dispersals for such purposes are not contradictory to Article VI, Section 3(d) of the IWW Constitution.

In deliberating on awarding assistance from the Sato Fund, the Gender Equity Committee should consider the following parameters in their decision making process:

Does the applicant adhere to one or more of the following gender identities?

Cis-gender woman: A person assigned the sex of "female" at birth, who self-identifies as a woman.

Transgender woman: A person assigned the sex of "male" at birth, but who self-identifies as a woman.

Transgender man: A person assigned the sex of "female" at birth, but who self-identifies as a man.

Gender non-conforming: A person who does not identify as either a man or a woman sometimes referred to as "gender queer".

How long has the applicant been a member of the union?

How many regional meetings, trainings, or conventions has the applicant attended in the past?

What is the current balance in the Sato Fund, and how will this dispersal(s) effect additional requests throughout the calendar year?

Upon being granted access to Sato Fund reimbursement, the applicant is required to furnish receipts for their travel costs to GHQ and the Gender Equity Committee Chair no more than 30 days after the attended event has concluded. Failure to do so may result in denial of future requests for funding.

Policies & Procedures for the International Solidarity Commission (ISC)

The following document is meant to serve as a supplement to the guidelines directing ISC activity already contained in the Constitution and General Bylaws. These Policies and Procedures are to be provided to all members serving on the ISC upon their election.

GENERAL ACTIVITY OF THE ISC:

The purpose of the ISC is to build and strengthen the IWW's relationships with unions and workers' organizations around the world. The ISC is responsible for issuing messages in solidarity with struggling groups, soliciting external support for IWW campaigns and establishing more meaningful links with like minded organizations towards our vision of global labour solidarity.

To advance these objectives, the ISC seeks to regularly communicate with other organizations. These communications primarily take two forms: written correspondence (primarily by email) and direct person to person contact. Normally the ISC relies on the former, however we seek to take advantage of all opportunities for direct contact, recognizing that this is the best way to build stronger inter-organization relationships.

POLICIES & PROCEDURES

1. Decision-making within the ISC will be accomplished through informal consensus of ISC members or majority vote on formal motions.

1.1 Determining which method will be used is at the discretion of ISC members, however generally solidarity statements, endorsements of representatives, sponsored events, other issues requesting official ISC support or action and amendments or additions to official ISC policy, require formal motions.

1.2 Wherever possible, the ISC endeavours to maintain comradely relations amongst its members and seek consensus, whether this is expressed in informal written or verbal decisions or formal votes.

2. The ISC seeks to respond to as many requests for solidarity as possible, however recognizing our limitations of time; we prioritize responding to requests directly made to the ISC/IWW by other organizations or members and branches within the IWW, and organizations the IWW is actively working to build connections with.

3. The ISC will issue external calls for support of IWW campaigns at the request of the body involved within the IWW, and following their instructions.

4. Even when a decision may have been reached during a conference call, all formal business shall be conducted through motions sent via email over the committee's email list, with the given exception: For the Organizer Training Department, the OTC may continue to expedite its business of funding trainings and trainers as has been past and current practice, provided that each year, in time for the Winter Meeting of the GEB that this practice is made clear to the GEB.

The chairperson of the OTC shall make a monthly report for the General Organization Bulletin of all travel expenses for each training approved since the prior report, but may omit naming the trainers who traveled to conduct the training. No new program will be adopted or funds disbursed without a majority vote of the committee. The chair of each committee shall keep a record of all motions and how members voted on motions. Committee chairs are to make a report on their committee's activities, which is to include all motions moved and their status since the previous report, and email the report to the General Executive Board and the General Secretary-Treasurer for inclusion in the General Organization Bulletin.

III) Organizing Department Board and Sub-Committees

A. Duties of the Board and Sub-Committee

The role of the Organizing Department Board is to give overall oversight to the operations, finances and activity of the Organizing Department. As part of these responsibilities, the Board directly facilitates the tasks and projects it has adopted except those under the purview of the Organizer Training Committee and the Survey and Research Committee. These committees function as sub work groups as outlined below, select a chair and report to the Organizing Department Board.

The Chair provides to the GEB a general report monthly and a report on the activities of all campaigns quarterly. Additionally the Chair will submit a proposed annual budget in time for the Winter GEB meeting.

B. Qualifications for Board Members

All candidates, whether standing for election in the annual referendum or for appointment by the GEB, must meet the following criteria:

- * They must have organizing experience and submit a statement of their organizing experience for publication in the General Organizing Bulletin.
- * They must remain in continuous good standing.
- * They understand that members who fail to fulfill their obligations are subject to the same recall procedures as any other IWW officer or may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Organizing Department.

IV) Organizing Campaign Funding

A. Scope of Funding

The Organizing Department creates a clear process to facilitate campaigns in seeking funding from the administration. Within the OD budget, the OD Board can approve funds towards organizing campaigns up to 25% of the OD total budget set for organizing. For all requests above this amount the OD Board will make a recommendation to the GEB for final approval. For each proposal submitted the board will assign a member to work with the campaign, help develop their proposal and/or campaign, if needed and provide regular oversight following approval.

B. Criteria for Funding

In order to receive funding a campaign must meet the following criteria:

- * It is an organizing committee that meets regularly.
- * It is focused on a large shop, geographic region or industry of 200 plus workers.
- * It has an outlined organizing strategy and analysis of the industry or group of workers being organized.
- * There is a detailed understanding how funds/organizer will benefit campaign.
- * There are a clear set of expected outcomes.
- * There is a plan for campaign growth and self-sustainability after the funding period.
- * There is an understanding that funding is contingent upon monthly campaign reporting and if reporting is not followed funding may be discontinued.

The Organizing Department will offer financial support to smaller campaigns who do not meet the size requirement with grants up to $500 provided all other requirements are met.

C. Accountability

The Organizing Department Board will evaluate and hold accountable all campaigns that receive funding. It is expected that the Board will ask the following questions of the campaigns it is funding:

- * Is it reporting monthly?
- * Are the funds being effectively used?
- * Is the campaign meeting its stated goals?
- * Does the campaign need additional support?
- * Are there similar campaigns elsewhere in the union?

V) Organizing Department Projects

A. Worker-Organizer Exchange Program

The Organizing Department will run a worker-organizer exchange program. The goals of this program will be to offer support to organizing campaigns, develop greater lines of communication between branches and facilitate worker-organizers in improving their skill sets. The Organizing Department will both solicit branches, individuals and campaigns to the program and welcome applications. The criteria for funding and facilitating an exchange will be those in Section IV.B. Additionally the following criteria will apply:

- * The worker-organizer involved has received formal sponsorship from both their home branch and the host branch. If the worker-organizer is not a member of a branch this requirement may be waived with the approval of the Organizing Department Board.
- * There is a clear understanding of what the person/campaign/sponsoring branch will gain from the exchange.
- * There are clear expectations of what the hosting branch will provide such as housing, stipend, mentorship, and level of expected activity.
- * There is a division of matching funds between Organizing Department, host branch and sponsoring branch.

B. Mentorship Program

The Organizing Department Board will work with members of the Organizer Training Committee and Organizer Training Program to identify potential or existing workplace organizers and branch leaders who could use the support of a more experienced organizer. The Board will contact these individuals to see if they would benefit from mentorship. If they would the Board will pair the less experienced organizer with a more experienced mentor. The mentor will be expected to be in contact with the mentee at least twice a month. In order to facilitate this program the Organizing Department will maintain a list of all members of the union who are currently involved in organizing campaigns.

C. Campaign Mentorship:

The Organizing Department Board will provide advice and support to campaigns as requested. Additionally, the Board will assign one of its members to work with all campaigns of more than 200 workers. The Board member assigned to such a campaign will be expected to be in contact with the campaign at least twice a month.

Every other year the Organizing Department will sponsor, with the assistance of a local branch, a union-wide organizing summit. In the off years it will support branches in setting up regional assemblies.

E. Sister Branch Program

The Organizing Department will identify branches working on similar campaigns or facing similar organizational issues and work to foster a relationship between them.

F. Future Programs

The Organizing Department will adopt additional programs as it sees fit to fulfill its purpose. Possible future projects include: Wobbly Summer and expanded training programs.

VI) Sub-Committees

A. Organizer Training Committee Policies and Procedures

I Purpose of the OTC

1) The Organizer Training Committee (OTC) is a five-member committee which administers the organizer training program of the IWW. The training program includes:

- the Organizer Training 101: Building the Committee (OT 101),
- the Organizer Training 102: The Committee in Action (OT 102), and
- a Training for Trainers (T4T) for each of these programs.

2) The OT 101 and OT 102 help participants develop the skills they need to run organizing campaigns in their own workplaces, based on the principles and strategies of solidarity unionism. The T4T develops trainers, that is, IWW members who can facilitate an OT 101 or OT 102 training.

3) The OTC helps branches and workplace committees host trainings by connecting them with active IWW trainers. In addition, the OTC oversees and develops the curriculum of the IWW's organizer training program.

4) The broad goals of the OTC are simultaneously to develop the organizing capacity of the IWW, and to train workplace organizers in solidarity unionism. The OTC strives in particular to recruit and develop women, people of color, those who are gender non-conforming, and immigrants.

II Composition of the OTC

The OTC is composed of five members, among whom one serves as Chair. The Chair is responsible for calling monthly meetings, liaising with the GEB and GST, tracking spending, and filing reports. The OTC also has a seat on the ODB. OTC members decide amongst themselves who serves as Chair and OTC member of the ODB. If the OTC sees fit, it may create the position of Treasurer in addition to the Chair, in which case overseeing spending shall be handled by the Treasurer instead of the Chair.

III OTC Budget and Finances

1) The OTC will submit a proposed budget to the GEB in January in time for the Winter GEB meeting.

2) Funds will come from the General Fund of the IWW. The GST will work with the OTC Chair (or Treasurer, if there is one) to maintain a record of all funds spent.

3) The OTC's budget is divided among multiple lines. At the very least, it shall include lines for OT 101s, OT 102s, and T4Ts. In addition, budget lines may be added for translating the OT manuals into languages other than English, and for trainings outside of North America.

4) The OTC will strive to remain within budget. If it becomes necessary towards the end of the fiscal year, the OTC shall work with the GEB to reallocate funds between budget lines so that OTC spending remains within budget. Towards the end of the fiscal year, the Chair (or Treasurer, if there is one) will communicate with the GST to ensure their respective financial records for OTC spending match.

5) The OTC shares the costs of trainings with the IWW branches or groups that host them. The OTC's main financial responsibility is to cover up to 50% of trainers' travel costs. (Each training is run by two trainers.) Effort will be made to keep travel costs low by selecting trainers who are nearby. Branches are expected to contribute as much as they can to the cost of training, including providing food and photocopies of handouts. As these happen less frequently, the OTC will make a greater financial contribution towards T4Ts, including paying 100% of trainer travels costs, and contributing towards other costs, such as providing manuals to participants. Because it has to balance multiple considerations, including striving for gender parity among trainers, the OTC is empowered to use its judgement and discretion in allocating funds.

IV OTC Elections

Members of the OTC serve two-year terms. The GEB is responsible for appointing the members of the OTC. Towards the end of an OTC's two-year term, the OTC will solicit nominations and hold an election among trainers, over the OTC listserv (otc@lists.iww.org). The 5 members who receive the greatest number of votes will be submitted to the GEB for nomination. In the event of a vacancy, the OTC Chair shall send a call for nominations over the OTC email list asking for trainers to self-nominate to fill the vacancy. At least seven (7) days shall be given for trainers to respond to the call for nominations with the materials indicated in the call. The OTC shall, at its earliest convenience but no later than thirty (30) days after the call for nominations closes, select a nominee to recommend to the GEB for appointment to the OTC. In the case that the OTC is unable to find a suitable nominee, the OTC will work with their GEB contact to find an appropriate replacement.

V OTC Responsibilities and Practices

- 1) Handling all requests for trainings. The OTC will field requests, coordinate trainers, assist in planning trainings as needed (e.g. by distributing the checklist for planning a training), and do follow-up, including tracking trainer reports (these should be submitted via webform to tinyurl.com/iwwtrainerreport).
- 2) Organizing T4Ts for both the 101 and 102 curriculums, in order to expand the number of trainers.
- 3) Responding to the otc@iww.org email account.
- 4) Maintaining a database of all active trainers in the union, including their up-to-date contact information. This database will also include ratings that indicate trainer strength, so that stronger trainers can be paired with, and help develop, weaker trainers. Periodically, trainers will be asked whether they are still active, and inactive trainers will be removed from the list.
- 5) Facilitating communication among trainers by moderating the otc@lists.iww.org listserv. The OTC listserv includes all committee members and trainers. All business and voting should be done over the listserv.
- 6) Maintaining training materials, and making them available as appropriate. The OTC distributes the OT 101 and OT 102 training manuals only to trainers (note that a trainer who has undergone a 101 T4T does not automatically have access to an OT 102 manual). Periodically, the OTC shall solicit and collect trainer input or feedback for updating training manuals.
- 7) Communicating with the union at large by submitting monthly reports to the GOB, which will include notices of past and upcoming trainings.
- 8) Submitting an annual report to General Convention
- 9) Preparing a budget proposal for the GEB in time for the Winter Meeting.
- 10) Transferring all materials (manuals, passwords, databases) to subsequent OTC members.

B. Survey and Research Committee

1. Purpose

The Survey and Research Committee will consist of five members appointed by the General Executive Board. The purpose of the research committee will be to develop analysis of organizing strategies and tactics and support local campaigns in their research needs.

2. Projects

a) Organizing Writing Project

Every two years the Survey and Research Committee will publish the results of a union wide survey on a topic related to organizing. The report will both analyze the results of the survey and make recommendations based on its findings. Future topics of the survey might include: corridor campaigns, contract shops, solidarity unionism, understanding of what it means to be a member of the union, branch structure and operations.

b) Campaign Research

The Survey and Research Committee will assist in campaign research as appropriate. However, committee members will not be expected to perform campaign research themselves. Rather they will facilitate it by identifying and maintaining a list of members of the union willing to do campaign research for the ODB. Organizers are encouraged to utilize the SRC for assistance in meeting the criteria for campaign funding.

Organizer Training Committee: Checklist for Trainers (pre-training)

Purpose:

The checklist aims to keep trainers on task, prevent disorganized trainings (and trainers), improve turnout, and clarify the roles and responsibilities of trainers and local IWW groups.

Suggestions:

- * Follow through
- * Stay in regular contact with branch and the Organizer Training Committee.
- * On finances, put it in writing or email
- * Plan- failing to plan is planning to fail!

Communicate how the training should work and make sure everyone understands expectations of the branch:

- * That it be well organized
- * That the branch is committed to publicizing and preparing for the training
- * That the branch is expected to contribute towards costs
- * That the branch provide the names of individuals who will be attending so vague promises of “20 people said they would be there” don't turn into lousy turn outs.
- * Who is the training for? Is it only for Wobs or an industrial union campaign? Is it for a hotshop and local branch? Is it for activists? In other words, as much as possible, the audience should be a known quantity.
- * For the training, organizers should plan on a two day training. Planners should allocate time for breakfast and settling in, a 45 minute lunch on schedule, and a short break in the afternoon.
- * Discuss with the branch special needs of any participants (such as food, daycare, translations, etc.).

Location, food, and supplies:

- * Refreshments should be provided for morning. Be sure there are napkins, cups, plates, knives for the bagels, etc. These should be in hand before the morning of the training.
- * Discuss with branch where it is and why this location was chosen. Ask if there might be problems with the location. For example, would a training for education workers at a college make it uncomfortable for that college's workers to attend (fear of retaliation from union or boss)?
- * Supplies usually amount to: notepads or books for attendees, something to write on (board or butcher paper) and with, photocopies of handouts.
- * Make sure the copies are done in advance.

Housing (trainers and attendees):

- * For each person from out of town, the branch should ask: arrival date, departure date, method of travel (flight numbers included), and any special requests (no cats, no-smoking, whatever). Childcare should also be discussed with attendees.

Finances:

- * Travel of trainers: The OTC will cover up to 50% of the trainers travel costs. This will be negotiated between OTC, branch/group, and if needed IWW General Headquarters.
- * Meeting space, food, copies, place for trainer to stay and transportation for the trainer from bus, plane or train to training. Branches are expected to pay/provide/arrange for these.

* Fundraising can be done prior to training. Events, grant writing, or passing the hat are some ideas for this.

Generic Timeline:

Two months before the training:

- * Cost arrangements are agreed upon and email is sent to OTC and local IWW contact or Branch Secretary detailing such.
- * Days and times are set.

One month or more before the training:

- * Space has been reserved.
- * Trainer is prepared to go and the branch has communicated any special needs they have (such as an industry or campaign focus).
- * Trainer(s) should book flights no later than 28 days before the training

Three weeks:

- * Branch has completed publicity for training
- * Trainer and branch contact have discussion on what the needs of the branch are.

One week:

- * Trainer should check-in with branch and make sure that all is set up or prepped. Trainer should also get a sense of what kind of workers will be there.
- * Trainer has notes ready and has reviewed them, keeping in mind the audience.

Day of training:

- * Coffee, tea, light snack available at start of training.
- * Writing space is available such as chalkboard, white board, butcher paper, or large meeting pad.
- * Handouts or writing paper and pens for participants
- * Have evaluations AND have folks fill them out.

The OTC should follow up with branch 3 months after the training and one year after the training . . .

Guidelines for ROC Formation Year and Criteria for Chartering a Regional Organizing Committee (ROC)

A Regional Organizing Committee (ROC) is a subordinate regional section of the IWW, as described in the IWW Constitution Article I, Section 8(a). Regional Organizing Committees are chartered by the General Executive Board (GEB). Whenever there are 10 or more members in a region they may petition the GEB to form a ROC. The following guidelines and criteria will be the standard for the General Executive Board regarding the formation and Chartering of a Regional Organizing Committee.

- In establishing a ROC the GEB will consider a region as any geographical, linguistic, or economic zone that shares similarities internally and differences externally i.e. a nation with specific labour laws, or an area with specific languages.
- Upon the recommendation of regional members and/or the GST, the GEB shall pass a motion to grant ROC Formation Status for a period of one year, as defined in Article I, 8f) of the constitution. If an application for a ROC Charter has not been submitted within one year with all supporting documents the GEB may pass a motion to rescind the ROC Formation Status. If the motion to rescind is passed all delegates and members in the region will become at large members and will submit dues to GHQ. ROC formation groups nearing the end of their year may apply for an extension. Any applications will be negotiated with the GEB on a case by case basis, and require a new motion to extend ROC Formation Status for a period of one year.
- Fellow Workers in a region may request the GST to delegate one or more IWW members to be ROC Organizing Delegates. The GST will inform the GEB of those so designated. The GEB will assign a GEB contact for the ROC.
- Designated ROC Organizing Delegate(s) will report quarterly all financial activity (income and expenses with receipts), all group activity, and submit all meeting minutes. Written reports depicting the health and activity of the ROC will be sent to GHQ and the ROC GEB contact.
- Credentialed Delegate(s) will remit all dues collected to the ROC Organizing Delegate(s) and submit monthly reports using the Delegate Report form to GHQ.
- IWW members in a region may not open a bank account in the Union's name, or otherwise register as a formal entity with any business or public organization, until an official Regional Organizing Committee has been chartered by the GEB.
- In consultation with members within the region the GEB will pass a motion to set the local membership dues rates. These rates shall be set in local currency, either at 1% of take home pay, or within the categories sub-minimum, minimum, regular and maximum at amounts appropriate for income levels in the region.
- During the year of ROC Formation Status, members will work with their GEB contact to draft ROC By-laws and a ROC/General Administration (GA) Agreement. ROC Bylaws should be applicable to the group applying for a ROC Charter at the time of the application. The ROC/GA Agreement can be amended as the ROC expands and requirements change.
- During the year of ROC Formation Status IWW members may choose to apply for a Charter as a General Membership Branch or Industrial Union Branch. Charters for a GMB or IUB are issued by the GEB, and these IWW entities would report directly to the GA prior to a ROC being chartered.
- A ROC Charter Application must include the name, membership number, and signature of no fewer than 10 members in good standing from the region. Additionally, the application must include a copy of the minutes of the meeting at which the By-laws of the ROC were adopted, a listing of the elected officers of the proposed ROC, and a Letter of Intent describing the need for and purpose of the ROC.
- Prior to issuing a Charter all required Organizing and Credentialed Delegate Reports and membership information are to be submitted to GHQ, and any outstanding accounts with the Union be paid in full.
- The GEB shall be satisfied that all of the above application criteria have been met before making a motion to grant an ROC Charter.
- Once chartered, ROCs may set their own dues structure, local branch sizes, and elect officers. ROCs may elect to print membership cards and dues stamps in local language(s), and/or in a format that is appropriate for the region. Membership numbers for such materials must be supplied by GHQ.

- Services provided to a ROC are negotiated as needed between the ROC and the General Administration. A per capita dues share remittance shall be provided by the ROC to the General Administration in compensation for these services.

Administrative Agreement Between the Canadian Regional Organizing Committee (CanROC) and the General Administration

Ratified by members of CanROC May 26, 2016

Passed by the General Executive Board March 24, 2016

Amended by JO-05, 2018.

1. This is the administrative agreement between the Canadian Regional Organizing Committee (CanROC) and the General Administration (GA). No part of this agreement may overrule the CanROC or international IWW Constitutions. It shall be appended to the CanROC constitution as Appendix 2 and included in the Manual of Policies and Procedures (MPP), Section 6-5. CanROC was chartered by the General Executive Board (GEB) in April 2011. CanROC has its own constitution approved by Canada-wide referendum in August 2009.

2. This agreement will be reviewed on the request of the General Executive Board, General Convention, or the majority of the CanROC branch representatives for fairness and effectiveness. Any changes to the CanROC constitution shall be voted on by the CanROC membership in its annual referendum. RST shall report any amendments to the constitution to the GEB and the GST.

3. Membership:

CanROC membership consists of the IWW branches affiliated with CanROC. At-large members in Canada are presumed to be CanROC members, but they also have the right to opt-out and ask to be at-large members. Affiliation of new branches is voluntary and must be decided by members at a regular business meeting. GMBs in Canada, who are not affiliated with CanROC, are responsible for their members and their relationship with the General Administration.

4. Communication:

The ROC Secretary-Treasurer (RST) and General Secretary-Treasurer (GST) shall be in monthly contact to share information and coordinate activity. The RST will provide the latest copy of the CanROC Internal Bulletin (COB), the annual CanROC financial audit, and share all new documents that have been translated into French with the GST and the GEB.

5. Organizing Department Liaison:

The ROC Organizing Department Liaison and the Organizing Department Board shall be in monthly contact to share information on organizing activities.

6. GOB:

The GST will send an electronic copy of the GOB to the CanROC RST who will transfer it to all CanROC members, unless the member has no email or elects to receive it by mail. CanROC will be in charge of printing these electronic copies and distribute them to members who ask for paper versions. The RST shall maintain the list of members who chose to receive the GOB by mail. This GOB e-mail and print-list will be verified and updated quarterly by the RST and GST together.

7. CanROC internal bulletin:

CanROC will publish a quarterly internal bulletin for its members. The GST and GEB Chair may submit brief international reports.

8. International referendum:

The GST will email a blank electronic copy of each year's General Referendum to the RST, as soon as the referendum text is finalized, and in no case later than 15 October. The RST will promptly print, uniquely number each ballot, and mail one for each CanROC member in good standing no later than October 20th with a voucher envelope. These ballots will be mailed to either the General Membership Branch which members are affiliated with or to the home addresses of at-large individual members without a GMB. The CanROC ballot committee shall count the international ballots received by CanROC by 11:59 PM CST on November 30th and report the results the evening of DEC 1 to GHQ so the GHQ ballot committee can report their results by 11:59 PM CST on December 1st.. CanROC shall be responsible for the translation of the referendum ballot.

9. Delegate credentials, rigging and supplies:

The CanROC RST will be in charge of the production of membership supplies and delegate rigging, with the exception of dues stamps and 5 years dues cards. New CanROC delegates will receive numbers in the 4000 block; current or former delegates who return to service will continue to use their delegate numbers. The CanROC will issue delegate clearance forms in February of each year and delegates shall clear their credentials with the ROC. The RST will provide to GHQ a list of any newly credentialed or any newly cleared delegates on a quarterly basis.

10. Dues:

The CanROC will have the same dues structure as in the international constitution, in Canadian dollars. CanROC will remit dues money to General Headquarters on a quarterly basis. Dues remittance shall be sent with enough time to be received by GHQ the end of each January, April, July, and October. The ROC, chartered branch, and General Administration (GA) shall share dues as follows:

- a. 90 % to the ROC, and 10% to the GA. Dues shares between the ROC and its chartered branches are a decision internal to CANROC and shall be defined in the CANROC constitution.
- b. Disparate CANROC members shall pay dues to the CANROC, and the CANROC will remit 10% to GHQ and retain 90%.
- c. The GA shall retain 100% of initiation fees.
- d. Sub-minimum dues collected by the CanROC and its chartered branches shall be shared as follows: $1 to the General Administration and $5 to CanROC.
- e. CANROC shall submit their dues remittance using a ROC report form from GHQ.

11. Database:

Chartered branch secretaries and delegates at large shall send a copy of their report to the RST who will update the GA database on a regular basis and at least quarterly every March, June, September, and December. The RST will have administrative access.

12. Charters and Shop Cards:

The CanROC shall issue charters and shop cards within its jurisdiction. Chartering process will be a CanROC duty. The branch charters for new branches in CanROC will be provided by CanROC and signed by the RST. The RST shall report any new charters and shop cards to the GEB and the GST. An annual clearance report of IWW shops shall be reported by the RST to GHQ by January 31 each year.

13. Organizer Training:

The OTC shall be responsible for all costs of trainings within CanROC's jurisdiction. How much of these costs are covered by branches is a matter between the OTC and the branches. [JO-05, 2018]

Credentialed Delegate Duties and Policies

1. All delegates are credentialed by the General Secretary-Treasurer (GST) and are empowered to initiate new members and collect dues. In addition, delegates orient new members to our union and assist them in determining which Industrial Union they belong to. (Article IV Sec 1(b))
2. In addition to collecting dues, delegates are also responsible for encouraging members from whom they collect dues to stay in good standing. Delegates must be familiar with current dues and initiation rates. Delegates are responsible for placing the dues stamps in members' cards. (Article IV Sec 1(d))
3. Delegates are elected annually either by other Wobblies at their workplace, by members of an IWW group in formation, or by members of a chartered General Membership Branch (GMB) or Industrial Union Branch (IUB) according to branch by-laws. Elected delegates are required to have been members in good standing for a minimum of six months with the exception that newly organized groups may elect one of their members to serve in that capacity (Article IV Sec 1(b))
4. If no IWW group exists in an area, a member can apply directly to the GST to be credentialed as an at-large delegate. Monthly at-large delegates remit all dues collected to General Headquarters (GHQ). Once a group has been established in an area they will elect their own delegate. The GST will not credential at-large delegates in a geographical area under the jurisdiction of a GMB.
5. Branch sponsored group delegate: (see MPP Sec 8-1, 4(c))
  - c) While a group's initial delegate may have been elected by the sponsoring branch the group can elect their own delegate at any time.
6. All members seeking delegate credentials are required to fill out and submit an IWW Application for Delegate Credentials to the GST. Any delegate elected by a branch that has been issued blank delegate credentials by the GST will have their delegate application co-signed by a currently credentialed delegate. (Article IV Sec. 1 (c))
7. Delegates need to stay in good standing (Article VI Delinquency Sec 2)
8. All delegates, whether elected or at-large, shall record all fees, dues, assessments, etc. collected on the monthly Delegate Report form provided by the GST and shall identify receipt both on the page of the dues book and on top of the stamps with the date and their credential number. Delegates must submit Delegate Reports at least monthly (whether or not they have collected any funds), remit all collected funds, and send all signed applications for membership to GHQ. Delegates elected by GMB's and IUB's submit reports to their Branch Secretaries while all others report directly to General Headquarters. (Article IV Sec. 1 (d))
9. Delegates have no discretion over taking dues from IWW members who have not been suspended or expelled (Selected Resolutions, Resolution on Delegates)
10. Delegates should keep in their possession a copy of the Delegates Manual to refer to whenever necessary.
11. Delegates will give each new member a membership card, an IWW button, a current IWW Constitution, and the One Big Union pamphlet. In addition new members should also be given and copy of their branch's by-laws and any other new member orientation material that the branch has approved. (Article VIII Sec. 2 h))
12. Delegates are responsible for maintaining records of all initiations and dues collected as well as all union materials in their possession.

13. Delegates are required to fill out an annual inventory clearance form by March 31st and return it to GHQ. Failure to submit the clearance form by the deadline will cause the delegate to become delinquent. Delinquent delegates will lose their right to vote in union referendum and will not be issued new delegate credentials for the year. When a delegate's account is cleared, the Clearing House shall issue a clearance stamp to be affixed to the delegate's membership card. (General Bylaws Article VI Sec 3)

14. If delegates decide they no longer wish to serve in this office, they are responsible for returning all union supplies to GHQ or to their local branch.

Branch Secretary-Treasurer Job Duties

1. Branch Secretary-Treasurers (BSTs) are elected by their local chartered IWW branch according to branch bylaws.
2. Where branch bylaws allow for the Branch Secretary-Treasurer position to be two discrete officers, the bylaws will dictate the particular duties of each office to meet the needs of the branch.
3. Branch Secretary-Treasurers are the main contact between the branch and their assigned member of the General Executive Board (GEB). Any issues that affect the union as a whole or need the larger support of the union (such as a major organizing campaign, a lawsuit, etc.) should be reported to the GEB through the branch's assigned board representative.
4. Branch Secretary-Treasurers shall be responsible custodians of all branch records, funds, and supplies. They are charged with keeping the financial records for their branch, including the recording of all income and expenses and securing the branch treasury. Records are kept of all transactions with delegates.
5. Branch Secretary-Treasurers are often responsible for maintaining the branch membership list, securing a consistent location for monthly branch meetings, notifying all members of the time and place of the meetings, and distributing a draft meeting agenda.
6. Branch Secretary-Treasurers shall endeavour to keep all members in good standing and aware of all referenda.
7. Branch Secretary-Treasurers are responsible for ensuring that minutes of monthly branch meetings are distributed to all branch members.
8. The Branch Secretary shall fill out blank convention delegate credentials and return one copy to General Headquarters at least 15 days prior to the start of convention.
9. Branch Secretary-Treasurers in the United States need to file the branch tax report annually with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). If the branch is registered with the Department of Labor (DoL) the Branch Secretary-Treasurer must file the necessary Labor Organization Information Reports.
10. If the branch charter is revoked the Branch Secretary-Treasurer should work with an authorized union representative to surrender the charter and union supplies, property, and funds to the General Administration.
11. The IWW Branch Secretary's Monthly Financial Report, along with remittance of all dues and other union funds collected during the month, shall be sent to the General Secretary-Treasurer (GST) no later than the 10th day of the following month. Should any branch fail to do so, further supplies will be withheld until those reports are received. Failure to report monthly will cause headquarters' records to become out of date and list members in bad standing. These members will then not receive the General Organization Bulletin (GOB), referendum ballots, or the Industrial Worker (IW).
12. IWW Branch Secretary's Monthly Financial Report includes:
  - The consolidation of all delegate reports
  - Copy of all delegate reports submitted for the month
  - Remittance of all General Administration funds
  - Membership applications
  - Branch meeting minutes
  - Updated branch bylaws
  - Updated branch contact information

- o Changes in elected branch officers
- o Name of the branch member authorized to request Literature Department credit
- o A report on the activities and prospects of the branch

Criteria for Reviewing and Issuing Charters

The following guidelines and criteria will be the standard for the General Executive Board (GEB) regarding the reviewing of petitions, and the issuing of charters, for General Membership Branches (GMB), Industrial Union Branches (IUB), Industrial Unions (IU), Regional Organizing Committees (ROC), Industrial District Councils, and other subordinate entities of the IWW.

Additional information on Regional Organizing Committees are found in MPP Sec 6-1 Guidelines for ROC Formation Year and Criteria for Chartering a Regional Organizing Committee (ROC)

IWW recognition of Shops, Cooperatives, and Sole Proprietors is addressed in Sec 8-3, Sec 8-4, and Sec 8-5 respectively.

1. General Membership Branches are established to organized and administer local bodies of workers in any industry until they apply for, and are granted, Industrial Union Branch charters. All members of an Industrial Union Branch must be in the same Industrial Union.
2. IWW Groups seeking charter are encouraged to work with their appointed GEB contact in the development of bylaws. Prior to submitting a Charter Application draft bylaws should be sent to their GEB contact and the GEB Charters Review member for review in order to ensure that they are in compliance with the Constitution, General Bylaws, and standard practices of the IWW.
3. All GMB, IUB, ROC, and Industrial District Council bylaws will define the geographical area that the charter will cover (e.g. city limits, county(ies), country)
4. Branch sponsored groups
  - a) Members of IWW Groups that are sponsored by a chartered branch will be members of the sponsoring branch until the group is chartered.
  - b) A branch sponsored group will be within a reasonable distance of the chartered branch (i.e. close enough that group members can take an active part in branch meetings and activities). (Article IV Clearing House Sec. 1 (c))
  - c) While a group's initial delegate may have been elected by the sponsoring branch the group can elect their own delegate at any time.
5. Charters will be issued to GMBs or IUBs only if the GEB finds if feasible for their members to hold regular meetings. More than one GMB in the same city or area shall be chartered only when the GEB finds it necessary due to language barriers, transportation issues, or other practical reasons.
6. The GEB reserves the right, upon issuance of a charter, to regulate the name of the body, and shall hold exclusive jurisdiction on issuance of local numbers
7. For filing purposes U.S. branches should have the same tax year as General Headquarters (GHQ) - July 1 to June 30.
8. A grouping of IWW members may not open a checking or savings account in the union's name until they have been chartered by the GEB. After receiving a charter the name of the bank, credit union, or other financial institution, along with any corresponding checking or saving account identification, shall be transmitted to GHQ within 60 days after such accounts have been opened.

9. Within the U.S. all bank accounts opened in the name of a new GMB or IUB must be established as designated non-profit bank accounts, in which multiple signers can have administrative access, to accommodate the annual election of branch officers. For this purpose a copy of the IWW's 501 (c) 5 non-profit tax designation letter may be required. Branch Secretary-Treasurers should contact GHQ for more information.

10. Prior to putting forward a Motion to Charter the GEB member doing so will ensure that all necessary criteria have been met, confirm with GHQ that there are no monies owing, and that the required ten (10) members signing the Charter Application are in good standing.

11. Upon the Motion to Charter passing the General Secretary-Treasurer (GST) will be directed by the GEB to issue the new branch a charter and seal

12. Once the Motion to Charter has passed the GEB member putting it forward will send the new branch contact information to the Industrial Worker Editor(s) for inclusion in the Industrial Worker IWW Directory

The following criteria must be met before the General Executive Board will issue Charters:

- a) Each application for charter shall include the printed name, card number, signature, and date signed of a minimum of ten members
- b) All petitioning members must be in good standing at the time that the Motion to Charter is put forward.
- c) The Body applying for a charter shall have convened a meeting, adopted bylaws, and elected the minimum number of officers to fulfill the obligations under the IWW Constitution. A copy of the bylaws and meeting minutes showing officer elections and adoption of the bylaws shall be submitted with the Charter Application.
- d) The petitioning members shall issue a letter to the GEB explaining the intent of the proposed organization
- e) All dues and monies owed to GHQ must be settled before any charter is granted, unless exempted by the GEB in accordance with the IWW Constitution.

Criteria for Dissolving Branches & Other Bodies

The Constitution provides as follows :

ARTICLE XI Charters

Sec. 1. The number of signers required on an application for a Charter shall not be less than 10.

Sec.4. The charter of a union or branch shall be surrendered when membership falls below 5.

Sec. 5. Upon a union surrendering its charter, the Regional Organizing Committee (or GEB where no ROC Exists) shall appoint a representative of the Industrial Workers of the World to take charge of the charter, supplies and property and funds of said union. Members or officers of said union refusing to deliver charter, supplies, property or funds of the union surrendering its charter to the authorized representatives of the Industrial Workers of the World shall be expelled from the organization.

The General Executive Board adopts the following rules as criterion for dissolving branches and other bodies of the union:

1. All property, tangible or intangible, real or personal, which is held by branches and other constituent bodies of the IWW is the property of the whole organization, and is held in trust by those constituent bodies for the benefit of the whole organization. Under no circumstances shall the members of a defunct or disaffiliated body retain or divide among themselves the property held by that body, or transfer the same to any other organization.

2. The General Administration may declare a branch or other constituent body defunct if

a. Its membership in good standing falls below the minimum number required by the Constitution for three consecutive months;

b. No meeting has been held or quorum met for more than six consecutive months;

c. It fails to have the minimum number of officers for more than 6 consecutive months;

d. It fails to submit monthly reports and remit dues for more than 6 consecutive months or

e. A majority of its members vote to surrender its charter, or to affiliate with any trade or business union, and there are not at least five members, willing to abide by the Constitution and By-Laws of the IWW, who object thereto.

3. Upon the happening of any of the events enumerated in Paragraph 2, the General-Secretary Treasurer shall promptly notify the General Executive Board, supplying any additional relevant information in his or her possession. If such information includes personal or other matter which ought not to be made public, the GST shall provide it by private communication to all members of the GEB. Any such matter may be made public by vote of the GEB.

4. If the body in question is subject to the jurisdiction of an Industrial Union or Regional Organizing Committee, the Secretary of that organization shall receive the same notice and information, and that organization shall take such action as may be called for in its charter or by-laws. If the IU or ROC having jurisdiction fails to take prompt action, the GST or GEB may take any reasonable steps necessary to safeguard the interests and property of the Organization, but shall take no such action without first informing the Secretary of the IU or ROC.

5. If the body in question is subject to the direct jurisdiction of the General Executive Board, or if the body having direct jurisdiction fails to take prompt action, the member of the GEB who is responsible for communication with that body (or if there is no such member, a member appointed by the chair) shall then investigate the matter and report within fourteen days to the full Board. If the report contains personal, scandalous, embarrassing, or other matter which ought not to be made public, the member shall provide it by private communication to all members of the GEB and the GST. Any such matter may be made public by vote of the GEB.
6. If the member concludes that the body is not defunct, she or he shall recommend to the GEB such steps as may be advisable to bring the body into compliance with the Constitution and By-Laws and restore it to proper operation.
7. If the member concludes that the body is defunct, she or he shall then move that its charter be revoked. He or she may also recommend to the GEB such steps as may be advisable to promote the reorganization of the defunct body.
8. Upon the revocation of the body's charter, the GST shall immediately appoint an honest and reliable representative, who need not be a member of the IWW, to secure the body's charter, seal, minutes, records, un-cancelled dues and assessment stamps, blank membership cards, furniture, equipment, and any other property held by it, including money and accounts. No supplies, property, or union funds may be transferred to a third party. The GST shall have authority to retain legal counsel if necessary to secure the union's property, and to provide the representative with such credentials as may be required; but no legal proceeding shall be instituted without the consent of the GEB, except where necessary to prevent the imminent theft, destruction, damage, or other loss of the union's property. No person who has been expelled from the IWW or removed from office in the IWW for misconduct shall be appointed representative under this paragraph.
9. All property formerly held by the defunct body, other than dues stamps and other membership materials, shall be held for one year at General Headquarters or other convenient, secure place, pending the reorganization of the defunct body. Accounts formerly held by the defunct body shall be liquidated, and all money placed on deposit with some secure bank, as the GST may direct, in the name of the Industrial Workers of the World. At the end of that year, if the body has not reorganized, the property shall be disposed of as the GEB shall direct.

  - Are more than fifty percent of all eligible workers in the workplace members of the I.W.W.?
  - Are all members recognized as equals?
  - Does the workplace committee meet regularly?
  - Has the workplace committee elected a delegate for the Shop?
  - Does the workplace committee actively seek to organize for more power in the workplace?
  - Are any and all positions within the workplace committee open to all members and limited by set term lengths?
5. GEB members shall have satisfied all of the above criteria before making a motion to approve the recognition of any I.W.W. Union Shop.
6. Upon recognizing any I.W.W. Union Shop, the Chair of the GEB will instruct the GST to issue the applicants with a Shop Card.
7. To maintain their I.W.W. recognition, Union Shops must clear in the last quarter of every calendar year. Any recognized Shop that fails to send in its clearance will be deemed operating without valid recognition. The clearance will be submitted to General Headquarters and will contain an updated list of members, the most current contact information, any updates to its directory listing, any changes to its by-laws, governing documents and, if applicable, any contract. The shop must answer yes to each of the question in the means test. The GST will communicate a summary of all clearances to the GEB Chair and pending no concerns will issue a yearly clearance stamp. Constitution, and copies of the minutes shall be submitted with the charter application.
3. All recognized I.W.W. Co-operatives will have at least one Delegate elected from the shop floor for the purposes of signing up new members in the I.W.W., collecting dues, and reporting monthly to General Headquarters.
4. The GEB will make a determination that Co-operatives seeking recognition have put no excessive financial barriers in place to prevent workers from joining.
5. As a means test each applicant Co-operative must be able to answer yes to each of the following questions:
Do the Co-operative's bylaws have an anti-discrimination clause(s) – no racial, religious, gender, sexual orientation, disability or ethnic discrimination bars anyone from membership.

Are all members recognized as equals?

Do all members have democratic control of the Co-operative?

6. GEB members shall have satisfied all of the above criteria before making a motion to approve I.W.W Co-operative Applications

7. To maintain their I.W.W. Recognition, Co-operatives must clear in the last quarter of every calendar year. The clearance will be submitted to General Headquarters and will contain an updated list of members, the most current contact information, any updates to its directory listing, any changes to its by-laws or governing documents, and answer yes to each of the questions in the means test. The GST will communicate a summary of all clearances to the GEB Chair and pending no concerns will issue a yearly clearance stamp. Qualified self-employed members should be encouraged to apply for I.W.W. Self-employed Business recognition.

Under no circumstances will a cost be required for a sole proprietor to clear their annual credentials.

6. Under certain conditions a recognized self-employed worker may enter into a training or apprenticeship agreement with another worker. This agreement must be non-exploitive, with no boss-employee relationship, have a set time limit, and be submitted to the GEB for approval in order for the self-employed member to maintain I.W.W. Self-employed Business recognition.

Process for Hearing Appeals of Complaints Between Members

1. The General Executive Board (GEB) Chair is designated to receive appeals by member(s) who dispute a branch's final decision on complaints made by branches that are outside of the jurisdiction of a chartered Industrial Union or Regional Organizing Committee, in accordance to IWW Bylaws Article III, Sec. 8(a).
2. Appeals must be received in writing detailing the decision being appealed and the reason(s) for why it ought to be reversed within 30 days of the plaintiff being notified of the branch's decision. The GEB chair shall dismiss any appeal received after 30 days from when the plaintiff was notified of the decision being appealed. The GEB chair shall promptly notify the GEB of receipt of an appeal and steps taken to locate a branch willing to hear the appeal.
3. The GEB Chair must promptly provide copies of the appeal to all parties to the complaint being appealed, including the plaintiff(s), defendant(s), and secretary or alternate of the branch whose decision is being appealed.
4. It is in the best interest of the parties and of the union to have rank-and-file members hear appeals and the parties to be tried by their peers. Recruiting an appeal body should take no longer than two weeks, barring exceptional circumstances.
5. The GEB Chair will contact the plaintiff and defendant and identify a list of branches with no conflict of interest that could elect an appeals committee. The plaintiff or defendant must tell the GEB Chair a factual reason why a branch is in a conflict of interest in order to remove it from the list. If either party refuses or neglects to participate in the selection of an appeal body, that party has voluntarily waived this right.
6. The GEB Chair will contact the selected branches' secretary and ask for the appeal to be placed on the agenda of the next meeting. If the branch agrees to hear the appeal, it shall elect an appeals committee at the same meeting and conduct the appeal as detailed in Bylaws Article III, Sec. 3, Sec. 5, and Sec. 6.
7. In the exceptional situation that no branch outside of a Regional Organizing Committee or chartered Industrial Union is found to be without a factual conflict of interest or willing to hear the appeal, the GEB Chair shall put forward a motion for the GEB to form an appeals committee of no more than five members. No GEB member with a conflict of interest shall be a part of this committee. A GEB charges committee shall proceed in accordance with the procedures outlined in Bylaws Article III.
8. If conflict of interest prevents the GEB from forming an appeal committee, the appeal shall be deferred to the next General Convention and all parties will be notified of this decision.
9. If either party seeks to appeal the decision of the appeal body, that party may appeal to the General Convention by filing a final appeal with the GEB Chair within 30 days of the decision. All parties to the appeal, including the appeal committee and the secretary of its host branch, shall promptly receive copies of this final appeal.

The Conflict Resolution Committee for Matters of Gender (CRC)

Introduction

Because an injury to one is an injury to all, we must honestly and openly address patriarchal behavior and gendered violence in our movement and work to make our organizational spaces safer and empowering for people who are disproportionately impacted by gendered oppression, including women-identified, non-binary, and LGBTQ people. We must also recognize the damage that living within patriarchy does to us all and treat everyone involved in these intense and emotionally-charged issues with humanity and dignity.

The Conflict Resolution Committee on Matters of Gender (CRC) thereby supports the spirit of building a union in which we all strive to be good to each other, in which we can seek healing when we experience harm, and in which we embrace accountability when we have been harmful. We are all growing and learning in struggle, and individuals who commit gendered oppression and violence are capable of making reparations and transforming their behavior. As per the committee's name, the CRC serves as a conflict resolution process, one which is specifically designed to deal with complaints that allege gendered harassment, violence, discrimination, or other unwelcome actions of a sexual nature, or where the sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, etc. of one or more of the involved parties acts as a locus of oppression or is otherwise central to the complaint.

This process serves as an alternative to the IWW's formal charges process, as the CRC is designed to deal with interpersonal issues—specifically, issues identified by at least one of the parties as being rooted in gender—which are more complex than those that the charges process is designed to handle. Which process a member uses is entirely up to their discretion; however, once one process is enacted, they cannot use the other. The goal of this process is to reach a resolution which is, first and foremost, survivor-centred, which is agreeable to both parties, and which thereby allows them and the union to move forward. The CRC on Matters of Gender acknowledges that our organization alone may not always be in a position to provide the resources to enable this outcome, and that outside resources can and should be accessed at the discretion of the CRC and those involved in a CRC process, as needed.

Bringing these principles into balance means managing a certain tension between them which is not easy; conflict resolution is a vital and skilled work. As such, the committee which this language governs should be, to the greatest extent possible, populated with elected members who have a background and training in some combination of mediation, conflict resolution, gender-based work, harm reduction, and trauma-informed practices.

An independent committee will be elected by referendum, and will act as a standing committee with two year terms. If an independent committee is not elected, the Gender Equity Committee (GEC) will act as CRC until a subsequent referendum creates such a body.

Terminology

As there is power in language, and words carry many meanings, the following glossary clarifies the usage of key terms specific to this document.

Accountability: On the part of the person being held accountable, accountability is the process of recognizing the harm one has committed, how that harm connects to and uplifts broader systems of oppression, and how that harm has directly injured others, thereby making amends for their actions through a demonstrable commitment to change and to meeting the restorative needs of those injured. While communities should always strive to hold others accountable, ultimately accountability is cemented from within. We must therefore strive to hold ourselves accountable, and move our peers towards a path of holding themselves accountable.

Complainant: The person who identifies the accused(s) with whom they would like to seek resolution and accountability, having experienced harm from the accused(s).

Conflict: A dispute between two or more parties, often involving inflicted harm or emotionally-charged disagreements.

Conflict resolution: The process of addressing the conflict and working to either bridge the rift in the relationship or lay the foundations for those involved in the conflict to move onward, with the aim of reaching a mutually agreed upon resolution centered on healing and accountability.

Harm/Violence: Inflicting pain—including physical, sexual, or emotional pain—against another person, group, or community of people. The CRC focuses on harm rooted in gendered oppression, which often intersects with other forms of systemic violence.

Healing: While healing cannot bring someone back to a time before harm was inflicted, a healing process strives to relieve the pain from the person who has experienced harm so that they can progress with dignity and greater strength. The healing process also centers on empowering the harmed individual to have control over their own healing.

Accused: The one who has committed, initiated, and/or progressed the harms involved in the conflict. As the CRC process is not a legal or punitive process, the committee does not use the word “accused” as such. Instead, the CRC process involves an acknowledgement that there is someone who is accused of harm, and that the accused involved in the conflict resolution process seeks to foster healing and accountability in the spirit of solidarity.

Survivor-centered: The process of restoring and empowering those who have experienced forms of gendered harm by prioritizing their voices and needs.

Role of the Committee

As a survivor-centered process, the primary role of the Conflict Resolution Committee on Matters of Gender (CRC) is to support the complainant, and as such the CRC will endeavor to implement a response that adheres to the complainant’s wishes to the greatest extent possible. Within this framework, the goal is to maintain functionality within the body of the union impacted by the members involved.

The complainant will be given the option to not share space with the accused, at which point both parties are to avoid contact with each other except through appointed mediators for the duration of the process, until such time as both parties agree to meet. As necessary, the process can be completed without the parties ever being in direct communication.

The identity of the complainant and details of the complaint will not be shared beyond the CRC except at the request of the complainant or, in carefully anonymized form, when the committee deems it necessary to ensure the safety of others. If the complainant wishes to withhold their name or other details of the complaint from the accused, the CRC will work with the complainant to draft an anonymized version of the complaint and, with their approval, present this to the accused. However, while the complainant has the ultimate decision making power, the committee will work with them to make clear the limitations of redress open to the committee when a complaint is filed anonymously. The CRC has the authority to recommend that the complaint be made public if they feel there is a safety concern to other members of the union and shall make that decision in consultation with the complainant.

The role of the committee is multifaceted and as such may vary widely from situation to situation. Committee contacts should be understood to be protective, in that they can help a complainant avoid contact with the accused, while still getting their needs met. They can also serve as mediators, working towards a mutually beneficial resolution, and as resource people who can help find supports to carry out a plan, both inside and outside of the union. Ideally this conflict resolution process is mediation, but unlike true mediation, if the accused chooses not to voluntarily participate in the process the committee still has jurisdiction to work with the complainant and enact and enforce a course of action.

Recommendations of the CRC will include an accountability plan for the accused, if deemed necessary. The goal of such a plan is to encourage an understanding of the accused’s behaviors such that they refrain from engaging in harmful behaviors in the future and incorporate feminist values into their revolutionary praxis. The CRC will endeavor to develop an accountability plan in collaboration with the complainant. It is recommended that this happen within one month of the CRC's initial involvement, though developing an appropriate course of action will take precedence and therefore it will be possible to extend this timeframe at the committee's discretion, as necessary. Execution of the plan will be the joint responsibility of the elected leadership of the accused's branch and any other individuals (including non-members) who have agreed to participate in the accountability process, and will be overseen by the CRC. Where mutually agreeable oversight cannot be found within the branch the CRC will either take on this role, or will partner with other neutral members in the union. It will be the job of the CRC to ensure the branch is willing, able, and adequately supported in this role. Assessment of the accused's progress, rehabilitation, and completion of the program is at the ultimate discretion of the CRC. Should the accused refuse to participate in the accountability plan or fail to respond to the CRC/branch members's communications detailing the plan and its terms of adherence, the accused will be suspended from all IWW activities save the communications necessary to pursue their appeal (as outlined above), including, but not limited to, branch meetings; list participation; IWW events; holding office; and being a delegate.

Any involved party may appeal the recommendation of the CRC to the Gender Equity Committee (GEC). The result of this appeal may likewise be appealed by any involved party for resolution at the following convention.

Process Outline:

1. Any branch officer or member can bring an issue or situation to the attention of the committee at any time. A member may also contact the committee to initiate a process on behalf of and with the full consent of a non-member, as committing harm against individuals outside of our union still warrants accountability; all too often, ignoring the harms experienced by non-members further hurts that individual and, having failed to extend our solidarity beyond our membership, the union as well.
2. Once an issue has been flagged for the committee, it will be considered open and ongoing unless the complainant instructs otherwise, and the committee is empowered to provide immediate relief in regards to the complaint. Members of the union are always welcome to seek counsel from the committee without a formal process being struck. The process will be considered formally 'enacted' at the point where it is brought to the attention of the accused by the committee. It is the responsibility of the committee to be sure the complainant understands this before consenting to go forward.
3. Two members of the committee will be assigned to follow up, one member with the party of the complainant and one member with the party of the accused. It is important that the member assigned to the complainant initiate contact first and clarify terms of immediate relief, so that the process can move forward in a way that is comfortable for them. The second committee member can communicate these terms with the accused.
4. At this point each committee member will interview their respective contact about the situation at hand. The two assigned committee members will then compare notes and go back for more followup as needed.
5. Complainants may have a clear idea about what their goals in this process are or what a healing resolution and accountability plan would look like for them, or they may be looking to the committee for suggestions. At this juncture, and depending on the circumstances, the committee contacts may suggest a sit down meeting with both parties to plot a course of action, and offer possible resources. If this is not possible, the contacts should continue to act as a go between until an agreement is reached. If the complainant or the committee decide that an agreement cannot be reached on how to move forward, the committee itself will make a recommendation. In cases where the CRC determines that the that the accused's actions fall outside its purview, or where abuse of the process is suspected, the CRC can by a majority vote move to disinvolve itself from the case and refer the complainant to their options outlined in Article III of the Bylaws (complaints and mediation). The CRC is authorized to issue a statement outlining their prior involvement and determination to any complaints committee subsequently struck to adjudicate the case, when requested.
6. A timeline should be laid out of how and when the plan will be enacted, and the committee will work with all the parties involved to make sure the plan is adhered to or extended in a way that works for everyone.
7. Members must remain in good standing throughout the process in order to proceed with the CRC's assistance.

However, if concerns over safety make that difficult for the complainant the committee will work with them to find a comfortable way to pay dues and proceed with the process. In the event that a complainant leaves the union, the accused will still be obligated to follow through on the agreed course of action.

Working Rules for the Conflict Resolution Committee on Matters of Gender (CRC)

I) Role and Purpose

As per the committee's name, the Conflict Resolution Committee on Matters of Gender (CRC) serves as a conflict resolution process, one which is specifically designed to deal with complaints that allege gendered harassment, violence, discrimination, or other unwelcome actions of a sexual nature, or where the sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, etc. of one or more of the involved parties acts as a locus of oppression or is otherwise central to the complaint.

II) Structure

A. The Committee

The CRC will be a committee of no less than three and no more than 5 members, elected by referendum. Board members will serve two year terms. Any member may run for the committee; however, cis men cannot make up the majority of the committee. And it is strongly recommended that the committee is made up primarily of members who work or have training in a related field.

B. Working Rules

The CRC will use the following Working Rules:

The committee shall elect a chair from its membership.

The email lists of the CRC committee shall serve as ongoing meetings of that committee. Formal business shall be conducted through motions sent via email over the committee's email list.

All motions will have a voting life of 10 days, unless a majority has passed or defeated the motion before the end of this period. Vote changes will be allowed within the life of a motion. All motions shall be moved as their own email thread. A motion need not be seconded to be considered by the committee.

Each motion shall be initialled and numbered by its sponsor. Additionally, all motions should include the year in which they are moved. The sponsor of a motion may withdraw the motion during its voting life. Amendments to motions are not allowed. Members wishing to change provisions of motions may vote "NO" and offer an alternative. A majority of a committee's membership must vote in the affirmative to pass a motion. Since amendments are not allowed, providing draft versions of prospective motions for comment and suggestion is highly recommended to the committee members.

Even when a decision may have been reached during a conference call, all formal business shall be conducted through motions sent via email over the committee's email list. However, it is recognized that due to the sensitive nature of the committee's work, much of it will not be made public to the union, therefore a distinction is recognized between the formal work of the committee's business and the primary role of the committee to help resolve interpersonal disputes.

The chairperson of the CRC shall make a formal report to be submitted each year to the membership at the General Convention, and an annual financial report for the General Organization Bulletin subsequent to General Convention. Should committee members be incapable of serving to the end of their term, new members will be encouraged to join the committee at the discretion of the remaining committee members, whose vote shall determine the new committee member. Such appointments to the committee will require confirmation by a vote of the General Executive Board to become official.

Education Department Policies [2018 Convention Twin Cities #2]

I) Role and Purpose

The Education Department's role and purpose within the union will be to provide the means and support necessary for members to become effective organizers in their workplaces, their industries, their branches, and the broader union, through the development and administration of trainings.

Trainings, as referred to in this section, are broadly defined as teaching skills and knowledge that are related to organizing, administration, or political education. Trainings may be in-person group workshops, curriculum to be engaged individually, or other forms of engagement and delivery.

II) Structure

A. Composition of Education Department

The Education Department will be overseen by a five member Board. Four members of the Education Department Board (EDB) will be nominated at the General Assembly and elected in the annual referendum. One additional board member will be appointed by the Organizer Training Committee. Elected board members will serve two-year terms and appointed board members will also serve two-year terms provided that they remain members of their respective committees.

Elected EDB members will be nominated for, and elected to, a specific Position (EDB Chair, Curriculum Development Committee Coordinator, Curriculum Library Coordinator, and Member at Large).

B. Working Rules

The Education Department Board and the Organizer Training Committee will use the following Working Rules: All committee business shall be conducted through either written correspondence, which will be sent by email, or phone conference calls.

Phone conference calls shall constitute a meeting of the committee if all members of the committee have been notified one week in advance that the meeting will take place and a quorum of members can take part in the conference call.

A quorum shall consist of 50% plus one of the members of the committee.

A majority vote will be required to: designate a piece of curriculum as part of the core training programs of the IWW; disburse funds; or create a program committee. No new program will be adopted or funds be disbursed without a majority vote of the committee.

An email motion will have a voting life of 30 days, or until such time that a majority has passed or defeated a motion.

The Chair of the EDB shall tabulate votes, make a report on all motions and decisions, their current status, and how each member voted. The Chair of the EDB will issue a monthly report to the GEB and the GOB.

III) Education Department Board and Sub-Committees

A. Duties of the Board and Sub-Committees

The role of the Education Department Board will be to give overall oversight to the operations, finances, and activity of the Education Department. As part of these responsibilities the EDB will directly facilitate the tasks and projects adopted by the EDB except those under the purview of the Organizer Training Committee. This committee will function as a sub-committee as outlined below, select a chair, and report to the Education Department Board.

The Chair of the EDB will provide to the GEB a general report monthly and a report on the activities of all training programs quarterly. Additionally the Chair will submit a proposed annual budget to the finance committee by the requested deadline.

B. Qualifications for Board Members

All candidates, whether standing for election in the annual referendum or for appointment by the GEB, must meet the following criteria:

- They shall provide a statement of their relevant practical experience for publication in the General Organizing Bulletin.
- They must remain in continuous good standing.
- That they understand that members who fail to fulfill their obligations are subject to the same recall procedures as any other IWW officer. Also, as stated in the IWW Constitution and Bylaws, if a board member fails to file reports for 3 consecutive months, they may be voted off the EBD by a simple majority vote.

IV) Education Program Funding

A. Scope of Funding

The Education Department will create a clear process to support Education Programs that are seeking funding from the administration. Within the ED's budget, the EDB can approve funds towards new training programs up to 15% of the ED's total budget set for training. Existing programs can receive up to 25% of the ED's total budget set for training.

For all requests above these thresholds the EDB will make a recommendation to the GEB for final approval. All new programs will require a majority vote of the EDB to be created.

The Organizer Training Committee will submit a budget (separate from the ED's overall budget) directly to the Finance Committee.

B. Criteria for Funding

- In order to receive funding, an Education Program must meet the following criteria:
- The Education Program is administered by a program committee that will meet at least quarterly.
- The Education Program is focused on an area of topics or skills that is not already covered by another Education Program.
- The trainings in the Education Program will be conducted by members who have attended an IWW training the trainers program (unless otherwise specified).
- A detailed account of how the Education Program will benefit the IWW is presented to the EDB for approval prior to the Education Program being constituted.

C. Accountability

The Education Department Board will evaluate and hold accountable all Education Programs that receive funding. On an ongoing basis the EDB will ask the following questions of the campaigns it is funding:

- Is the Education Program reporting quarterly?
- Are the funds being effectively used?
- Is the Education Program meeting its stated goals?
- Does the Education Program need extra support?

V) Education Department Projects

A. Training the Trainers Program

The Education Department will run a program for developing general training skills inside the IWW. The goals of this program will be to develop general facilitation skills and credential trainers for all Education Programs. Exceptions to this can be made by the EDB where an Education Program has its own internal process for approving trainers that is at least as thorough as the Training the Trainers Program, such as exists with the Organizer Training Committee and the Picket and Marshal Training Program.

B. Curriculum Development Committee

The Education Department Board at the beginning of their term, every two years, will appoint a Curriculum Development Committee to oversee a review of all curriculum within the Curriculum Library and Education Programs and present recommendations for curriculum changes to existing Education Programs to the EDB for approval. The Curriculum Development Committee only has the power to make recommendations to the EDB.

Based on the recommendations of the Curriculum Development Committee, the EDB can direct any existing Education Program to:

- Revise a piece of curriculum.
- Remove a piece of curriculum.
- Add a piece of curriculum.
- Move a piece of curriculum to another Education Program.

Additionally the Education Department will review the administration and content of Education Programs except those specifically stipulated in the IWW Constitution and Bylaws, such as the Organizer Training Committee.

The Curriculum Development Committee will be appointed by the Education Department Board and will be chaired by the Curriculum Development Committee Coordinator.

C. Education Programs

Education Programs (EP) are programs created for training members of the IWW in areas that have been identified as being of interest to the membership of the IWW. Education programs can be allocated funding. Education Program Committees (EPC) are committees of people appointed by the EDB to run Education Programs.

An Education Program may be created and run as follows:

Trainings that are informal, that there isn't a consistent demand for, that aren't considered central to the union's work, or that would prefer to remain unofficial for reasons of wanting more flexibility and less administration, are housed in the Curriculum Library (see below).

Once a training has been developed and there is support for it becoming an official EP, the EDB may decide that a temporary committee be struck to further refine the training and seek feedback from the membership about if the training should be official before making it an EP. To create an EP, a motion must be passed by the EDB outlining the role and purpose of the EP and how many members sit on its EPC.

The EDB then appoints members to that program. The EDB may solicit nominations directly, or if there is a body that already oversees what the EP does (e.g., the way the GDC oversees the picket-marshall training), then that body will solicit nominations, choose the best candidates, and pass the names along to the EDB to be appointed by EDB to the EPC.

With the exception of the Organizer Training Program, EPs must submit budget requests to the EDB to be approved by the EDB, though they may also request additional funding at any point.

Each EPC must meet monthly and submit quarterly reports to the EDB outlining the EP's activity, its use of funds, and any other matters that are important for the EDB to know. If an EP is deviating from its stated purpose, is misusing funds, has become inactive, or is deemed no longer essential to the union's mission, the EDB can permanently or temporarily close the EP and return its content to the Curriculum Library for future use.

The currently existing Education Programs are:

i) The Organizer Training Program, as outlined in the IWW Constitution and Bylaws under the Organizer Training Committee sections.

ii) The Picket and Marshall Training Program created by the General Defence Committee. Members of this Educational Program Committee will be appointed by the EDB on recommendation from the General Defence Committee.

D. Literature Committee

The Literature Committee's purpose is to identify official IWW literature for the general administration, curate the labor literature produced by the rank and file for union purposes, and create new literature as necessary to educate our membership and the broader working class.

E. Curriculum Library

The Education Department Board will maintain a library of all trainings developed and conducted by subordinate bodies of the IWW. The Curriculum Library is intended to be a place to develop new trainings that may turn into more complete Education Programs as well as to curate and document previous trainings conducted by the IWW. The library will included all current trainings on offer or revised by the Curriculum Development Committee.

Mileage Reimbursement Rates [DT-12 (2018)]

Mileage driven on behalf of the General Administration by pre-authorized members in personal vehicles shall be reimbursed using the business mileage rate used by the US Internal Revenue Service or the Government of Canada, depending on the location of travel. These rates will be adjusted annually to conform with the US and Canadian rates. NARA committees with their own budget lines may deviate from the standardized GA rate.
